11., 12. ve 13. soruları aşağıdaki parçaya göre cevaplayınız

“Had they predicted that what they were developing would lead to environmental problems, those who came up with fitting tracker applications in mobile devices might have changed their minds” say some futurists while talking about the future of camping and nature, and they add that “Until recently, nature lovers and campers had the chances of enjoying serenity at remote and isolated spots in nature. However, some people’s tendency to share their locations and invite their friends to the spots where they are via the location tracker applications on their mobile devices has caused spots of this kind to gain popularity and, thus become more crowded. Then comes contamination and pollution as a result of crowds. Finding and discovering new spots for isolation or enjoying serenity through camping runs the risk of transforming them into spots of waste unless you keep them for yourself.”

11. It can be understood from the passage that isolated spots ----.

- A) are the places where nature lovers contaminate unconsciously
- B) can be saved only through tracking applications
- C) gain popularity as campers share their photos on the internet
- D) could turn out to be accessible to everyone due to tracker applications
- E) are the only places that one can visit to stress out

12. According to the passage, some futurists believe that ---.

- A) nature lovers and campers should avoid using mobile devices
- B) tracker applications are not being used for its intended function
- C) people’s inclination to share their locations may turn into a danger to nature
- D) isolated spots will sooner or later lose its popularity
- E) using tracker applications while camping should be banned as soon as possible

13. We can conclude from the passage that---

- A) most of the application developers are unable to predict side effects of applications
- B) what causes pollution and contamination in isolated places is not its accessibility but ignorance of their visitors
- C) the disadvantages of mobile phones outweigh their advantages
- D) if you want to preserve isolated spots in nature, you should advise more people to go there
- E) tracker applications may bear unforeseen consequences for nature in the near future
